

Letters To The Editor

We publish the following to acquaint those who are interested in Grayling High School with what has been done to improve the educational system, and what needs to be done according to the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services.

March 2, 1961

Mr. Joseph Stripe
Superintendent
Grayling High School
Grayling, Michigan
Dear Mr. Stripe:

It was indeed a pleasure to be in Grayling High School, January 8, 1961 to meet you, Mr. Fenton and your staff and observe the high school in operation. At the end of the day I was able to summarize my observations with you and Mr. Fenton. This letter is an outline of the remarks which I made at that time and is written in two parts: (1) commendations and (2) weaknesses and suggestions.

Commendations

1. A start has been made on a guidance program by freeing Mr. Fenton for one period to begin this work.
2. Spanish has been added to the curriculum.
3. Home economics is now being taught in a much more pleasant room.
4. Science equipment is being added in the science department through the National Defense Education Act.
5. The commercial department seems to be an especially strong division of your school.
6. The library has been improved by housing it in a separate room. It appeared to me that the students were making good use of this room.
7. Going from eight to seven period day seems to have improved your total school organization.

Weaknesses and Suggestions

Although, I have reported considerable progress in the instructional program of the school, there still are a number of serious weaknesses. Some of these are violations of our criteria for accreditation.

1. Although the school has a fine gymnasium there is no physical education class for boys or girls in the high school.
2. Art instruction is not included in the school curriculum.
3. Biology should be taught as a laboratory subject. In order to do this adequately it should be offered during five 55 minute classes or seven short period classes.

4. More clerical help is needed to assist administrators and teachers in their work. At the present time you are using professionally trained personnel to perform clerical tasks. There is at present one clerk for all administrators. There should be one for the high school alone.

5. Additional equipment is needed in several areas of high school work. This is particularly true in the commercial department, industrial arts, and home economics.
6. As you work to strengthen your school program, there are several instructional areas which should be analyzed to see how they might meet the needs of all students. Some of these areas and suggestions are given below.

- a. Guidance
A complete testing program should be developed. The present testing program is concerned primarily with intelligence scores. Specific guidance responsibilities should be given the new person in guidance so that duties can be divided between him and the principal. Student records should be more readily available to teachers and guidance personnel. The school program should be organized to include more work in (Continued on Page 8)

How Constitutional Convention Will Operate and Delegates Be Selected

Two Elections Needed To Name Delegates

Now that the controversial Con-Con proposal has been approved, voters are interested in just what the election will be like. The proposal was passed by the entire state with over three counties voting for the Constitutional Convention while the other 80 voted it down.

The 144 delegates to Con-Con are to convene in Lansing on October 8th of this year. The delegates from all parts of the state will arrive in Lansing with a fat monthly salary for a virtually indefinite stay.

Here's how they'll get there: The Legislature has passed an enabling bill setting the ground rules for election of delegates. The measure was given immediate effect in the House but was held up, after passage in the Senate, until the election.

The Senate gave the measure immediate effect by a 27-3 vote Monday night, minutes after the polls closed.

Once the House approves a minor Senate amendment, the bill will go to the Governor to be signed into law.

It provides:

1. A primary election for delegates will be held July 25.
2. Two delegates will be nominated from each House and Senate legislative district.

The runoff election will be held Sept. 12, in conjunction with Detroit's City election.

4. To get on the primary ballot candidates must file nominating petitions bearing signatures totaling not more than 4 per cent nor less than 1 per cent of the vote.

The law specifies however, that 90 days — in which the work of the convention can be properly publicized — must elapse between adjournment and submission of the new document to the voters.

Thus to get a revised constitution on the ballot next April would require the convention to complete its work by Jan. 1, 1962. This is highly unlikely.

The law, however, adds that if the document can't be submitted on the April ballot, it must be put on the ballot at the next general election.

Presumably, this means that the Michigan voters would get a new or revised constitution in November 1962, or even 1963.

The convention can recommend an entire new constitution, one or more amendments to the present constitution, or no changes. If it recommends no changes, then the matter is over.

Otherwise, the final or amended document must again pass approval of the voters.

Mr. Richard Lovely and her husband are captains for the City of Grayling. Their solicitors are: Beverly Lowrie, Pat Hayes, Agnes Richardson, Ruth Fenton, Mrs. H. Dykema, Willis Halford, Julia Kroll, Ruth Nielsen, Mrs. L. Christian, Marion Hanson, Mrs. Jack Fenton, Mrs. Church, Mrs. H. Rowland, Mrs. Maxine Knuth, Elsie Jensen, Eunice Slusser and Barbara Schulze.

Those joining the Friends of the Library will be asked to sign a petition to the Crawford County Supervisors proposing the County Court House property as a site for the new library. The maximum cost of a new building which is badly needed due to overcrowded conditions in the present building, is estimated to be $25,000. According to Librarian Mrs. A. Funk nearly 1/3 of this money has already been saved.

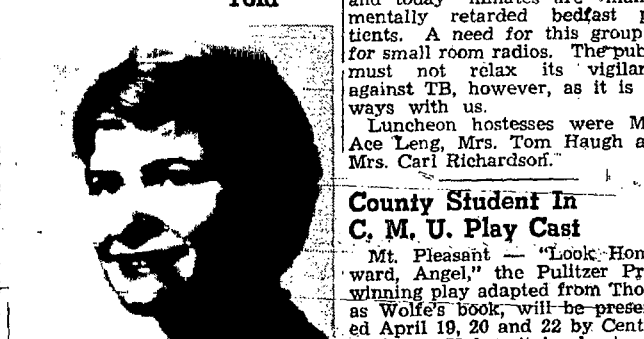

The newly organized Friends of the Library hope to have a fund raising campaign this summer. It has been suggested that perhaps the National Guard groups will donate toward this fund as they enjoy the reading room in a new building. Other facilities such as film and record libraries are planned for the future.

TO HOLD FINAL POLIO CLINIC ON APRIL 25th

The Crawford County Home Extension groups are sponsoring the third and final Polio Clinic, which will be held on April 25th, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. at the Grayling High School gymnasium. Dr. Paul Dosch will be in charge, with about twelve of the Home Extension ladies assisting him.

This clinic is for persons of all ages and is free of charge. The older age group is urged to attend. The price for individual shots is the same as before, 50¢.

Trout Opener 10 Days Away

LANSING — Spring showers would be a welcome sight to thousands of fishermen between now and Michigan's trout opener, April 29.

Streams are low in many parts of the state for this time of the year, especially in the lower peninsula where they are down to their July and August levels in some areas.

Although winter's generally light snowfall left many streams below their best fishing levels, mild weather may have worked in favor of fishermen by tending down trout mortality which normally is high during the cold months.

Unusually good opportunities await fishermen in the following waters riddled with stunted panfish populations by chemical treatment south to Benoit's Landing during the last two years:

Long lake, Kalamazoo county; Murray lake, Livingston county; Hartwig and Pettibone lakes, Oakland county; Courtney lake, Ontonagon county; Deadman's lake, Iron county; Hike lake, Alger county; Howes lake, Crawford county; Crystal and Condon lakes, Newaygo county; Center lake, Oceola county; Rainbow lake, Cass county; and Portage, Kalamazoo and Sylvan lakes, Jackson county.

A few changes have been made in "files only" waters since last fall. "Files only" regulations have been changed on a 4.5 mile section of the North Branch of the Ausable river extending north of the Crawford county line. A seven mile stretch on the North Branch from the Crawford county line to the Ausable River has been opened to general regulations.

The law specifies however, that 90 days — in which the work of the convention can be properly publicized — must elapse between adjournment and submission of the new document to the voters.

Thus to get a revised constitution on the ballot next April would require the convention to complete its work by Jan. 1, 1962. This is highly unlikely.

SPORTS CAR RACE PLANS FURTHERED

Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager Robert Hayes, Fred C. Welsh and Don Jensen were in Grand Rapids Friday as guests of George E. McKinnon, president of the Peninsula Club, to attend a meeting of the Central Western Michigan Sports Car Association at which further plans were laid for the upcoming sports car race at the Grayling Meadows Air Base on May 27th and 28th. Mr. Hansen is the Regional Executive Director of the Association. Other race officials, including Bob Erickson, president of the May race meet, attended, making sixteen persons altogether.

Three Forest Fires Blaze

The Crawford County Conservation Department was notified at 11:35 a. m. Thursday of a forest fire located just east of Louis Landing on the south side of the Ausable River about three miles south of Benoit's Landing. Fire officials were alerted and a fire truck and a bulldozer were dispatched. The fire was under control after it had burned about 7 1/2 acres, traveling south from the point of origin. Two cabins were endangered but unharmed. Trash burning in a trash barrel started this fire, it was reported.

At 3:30 Thursday, the Department was again alerted by the Down River Fire Tower to a fire in the Sable Trails property, which burned over about two acres before being controlled. A permit for burning brush had been issued here, but the fires got out of control and burned over approximately 200 acres before being controlled. Equipment from Roscommon, State equipment as well as units from the Mio Forest Service were needed at this fire, which burned out at 1:55 p. m. The fire was under control by the time the Grayling equipment reached the area, but the local men were asked to stand by for about an hour to make sure they would not be again needed.

Youth Crusade To Present Narcotic Film

Mr. Harry Anslinger, Federal Commissioner of Narcotics in Washington, D. C., has recently issued a stern warning to the smaller communities of this country relative to the vicious racket involving the peddling of dope to boys and girls of school age. He stated that the police are putting the "heat" on the peddlers in the larger cities and thus driving them to the smaller communities, where they do their nefarious work and move on before the police are discovered or even suspected. This is especially true of "junkies" or peddlers of "reefers" — loaded cigarettes made of Marijuana and offered to school children of tender ages, even to those attending grade schools in some places.

Mr. Anslinger calls this illicit traffic "America's SECRET Enemy Number One" and he had waged long and relentless warfare against it, going to other countries to try to prevent its import into America. Federal health hospitals have been built and equipped at tremendous cost to help these "wretched" men "hook" themselves on "dope" and the police have been urged to "clean up" the racket, but any progress in that direction is obviously small and slow.

A sound track film entitled "Assassin of Youth" has been produced by a non-profit organization set to combat the work of the peddlers. This group, incorporated as "Youth Conservation Crusade" with headquarters in St. Paul, Minnesota, will present the film Saturday night, April 22nd, in the Grayling High School auditorium. There will be no admission charge and everyone in this district is not only invited but strongly urged to see this film, which presents a warning to young people and a challenge to adults.

Dr. Robert James Devine, director of Youth Conservation Crusade and producer of the film, will be present in person to answer questions. The meeting opens at 7:30 p. m. Opportunity will be given to share in the work of this crusade after the film has been viewed. It is requested that children under fourteen be accompanied by their parents.

The bus carrying the party left the school at 9 a. m. and arrived in Midland at 11:30. The first stop was the Dow Music Building where passes were issued and the guides were met. At this building the group could observe many of the Dow Chemical Company products. The students with their teachers and chaperones then proceeded to the Dow cafeteria where lunch was enjoyed. Following a tour was made of the various plants and the office of the company which finished at about 3 p. m. The bus arrived back in Grayling at 5:30 p. m.

This group were able to witness a chemical manufacturing process in operation and also to observe the possible occupational opportunities. They were also able to see the characteristics of a large corporation type of business and the working conditions, safety precautions and morale.

Accompanying them besides their two instructors will be Leonard Knibbs, Mrs. Willard Harwood, Mrs. Harry McFivers and Mrs. Richard Nelson.

The bus will leave the Grayling School at 7:45 a. m. The bus is expected to arrive in Flint about 11 a. m. Luncheon will be served at the Flint Junior College cafeteria which is being provided for the students, chaperones and instructor by the Crawford County Avallanche.

Prior to the luncheon, the students will get an opportunity to tour the Flint Public Library. At 1:30 p. m. the group will visit the Planetarium to look over the many exhibits and then witness a showing of the new understanding of the heavens and the startling ways in which man will eventually move into space.

Following the completion of the showing at 2:30 p. m., the group will leave Flint with arrival time in Grayling tentatively at 5:30 to 6 p. m. The showing at the Planetarium has been arranged and the admission taken care of by Donald E. Johnson of Flint. Mr. Johnson is a frequent visitor in the Grayling area and a former newspaper publisher in Flint and former employer of the Avallanche editor and publisher.

These trips will go far to show the students of Grayling, much of what they have been getting through book study, in actual working areas. The purpose of such trips is to bring to the child a clear understanding of the world of business and sciences in the larger centers of population in our state.

Please Help Fight Cancer

Once again we are called upon to help in the battle against human suffering — this time it is the dread disease, CANCER.

In 1960, over 260,000 Americans died of CANCER. It is no respecter of persons, for it can affect children as well as adults, but it strikes with increasing frequency with advancing age. Perhaps in the past few years, it has been the most feared disease from CANCER, — maybe even dear ones have been taken.

Constant research is being conducted to find a preventative and cure, but only through our help financially can it succeed.

One-third of all monies donated remain in Crawford County for medical assistance to those in need who are already afflicted. Of the other two-thirds, 25¢ of every dollar is spent in research for prevention and cure. The balance is used in educating the public to be aware of the danger signs.

It is hoped that with part of the funds collected a cytology (cell examination) program can be set up in Crawford County. Cytology is the most effective and exact method available for the detection of early uterine cancer; a technique that makes possible the detection of cancer in its earliest stages. If all women can be persuaded to have this examination regularly, uterine cancer as a cause of death can virtually be eradicated. This would mean the saving of over 16,000 lives yearly. This test is a decisive factor which can lead to a cure, a factor which women themselves control.

lot of these measures will probably die in Senate committees and it appears unlikely that the House will be able to pass all of the bills that have been reported out by committees.

Perhaps this is a good time to give you readers some of the back ground on how legislation is handled during its long journey toward final passage. All bills that are introduced do not come before the House. Some of them are side-tracked in committee and, if it appears that they are not good legislation, they are not reported out.

Introducing legislation is not as easy as some might think, nor is it a sure sign that it will become law. Legislators try to get their bills introduced at the best time for favorable action and consideration. Legislation often has a better chance to come before the House if it is introduced early in the session before the flood of bills hit the committee rooms. However, it also faces stiffer debate at this time as the members are not so busily engaged. As the session nears the various deadlines that have been set up, debate gets shorter. All bills are given a thorough going over in committee.

Perhaps the very essence of good legislative work is the "committee." All legislators are assigned to one or more of the House committees. Some have fewer committee assignments than others since some of these committees require so much time that their members have little time for any other important committee assignments. Therefore, we find most members assigned to at least one of the important committees, along with other assignments that do not require so much of their time.

When a bill is introduced, it is brought before the House and read twice by title and then referred to committee. The bill is then printed and all members are given a copy, which they file at their desks so that they can refer to them as they come up before the House. Once a bill is in committee, it is given a thorough going over by the members of that committee, many of whom are experts in the field covered by the proposed legislation. The other members of the House rely almost completely upon the judgement of the committee regarding proposed legislation. When the committee is satisfied that the bill is a good one, they report it back to the House, together with any amendments made, with a recommendation that it pass. If they do not recommend its passage, it comes back to the House and is "laid on the table." When a bill is laid on the table, it takes a majority of the members-elect to take it from there and if only the floor of the House is for debate.

Once the committee favorably reports out a bill, it is placed on General Orders. When a bill is placed on General Orders, it is the "Whole" of the Committee of the Whole. If the bill is approved by the House, it is then passed to "Third Reading." When a bill is on Third Reading, it is up for final passage. Most of the real debate comes during the consideration of the bill in the General Orders. However, when it reaches its final status before passage, it gets another thorough going over and it is here that the debate sometimes gets pretty hot. Do not be misled, however, as legislative debate is not a free-for-all or nearly as rough as you may have been led to believe. For one thing, the rules of the House would not permit it, and the Speaker of the House keeps things in order at all times. It does not take long for a new legislator to learn that it does not pay to "get rough" in debate.

When the majority of the members-elect finally vote for the passage of a bill, it is then passed by the House and goes to the Senate, where it goes through much the same procedure as it did in the House. Bills passed by the Senate also have to be considered by the House in the same manner as bills introduced in the House.

Once a bill is approved by both Houses of the Legislature, it goes to the Governor for his signature. If he approves it, it becomes law. He may, and often does, veto legislation. When this happens, it must then go back to the house of origin. If two-thirds of the members-elect vote to pass it over his veto, it then goes to the other House and if they also approve passage by a two-thirds vote, it becomes law without the Governor's signature. Because of the evenly divided membership in the House, there is little prospect that any veto could be "overridden" but in years past it was a rather common occurrence to have this done. Few Governors of Michigan have ever seen "eye-to-eye" with the Legislature, even when one party had a monopoly in both Houses of the Legislature.

Some of those who visit the House during its sessions may see almost complete indifference to the proceedings going on during their short visit. Do not, if you are one of those who wonder why they appear to be so unconcerned, assume that your representative isn't minding the shop. He knows what is going on and if you hang around long enough you will find most of the members giving the proceedings their closest attention. During the time when the House is engaged in routine parliamentary work, many legislators use the time to study bills that are coming up or keep abreast of the current news.

I hope that this short story of what goes on in the House of Representatives will give you a better idea of what happens during the weeks that we are in session and that, if you have occasion to visit the Legislature while in session, it will give you a better understanding of what you see. It is interesting to be in a State Representative, and I know that many of the people back home want to know what really goes on while we are in session. If at any time I can do anything to help you know more about your state government, I shall be glad to hear from you.

Grayling's Mighty Team

Now Grayling has a mighty team. Although they won no fame, The coach he preached the clock around, But never won a game.

But you can't say they didn't try. They tried with hearts in vain, And the coach kept right on preaching, but never won a game.

He tried his best to teach them, he put his back in strain, but good old Grayling played right on, and never won a game.

And many a year has passed this You'd think he'd catch a train, But good old Grayling played right on, and never won a game.

But remember one thing, students, This I will explain, It isn't the final score that counts, It's the way you play the game.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our beloved husband and father, Seth Chappel, who passed away one year ago, April 23rd.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we love is still,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has called
The one we loved so dear.
Although he is still in our memory
His soul is safe in heaven.

Dear Mr. Babbitt:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter and I appreciate your views prompted by my Legislative Report.

You certainly hit the nail on the head when you said what this nation needs is not more tax but a tax reduction. I hope that this Administration will dedicate itself to eliminating duplication and waste and do what it can to at least stay within the proposed budget.

It is difficult, as you say, too many people are advising the President who have never had to meet a payroll.

I appreciate your expression of confidence in the work I am doing.

Europe's Boom Slows . . .

The "miracle" has been applied time and time again to Europe's economic revival following the second World War. When that dreadful conflict ended, the nation was prostrate. Damage had been done on an incredible scale, and human and economic resources had been spent to the point of almost total exhaustion. There was doubt in many minds if the continent could recover in the foreseeable future. Then came the Marshall Plan and a flood of American aid. European governments and peoples demonstrated a new upsurge of vigor and resolution. Industry not only got back on its feet, but boomed.

This opened up markets for American goods of a thousand-and-one kinds. Our export trade soared. And that trade is enormously important to the American economy, particularly in this time of balance of payments deficits which have made big holes in our gold reserves. As of now, the dollar value of our exports is still greater by a substantial margin than that of our imports. The payments deficits are thus the result of other causes—U. S. government spending abroad, tourist spending, and so on. The hope has been that the situation could be corrected, in large measure at least, by upping our exports still farther. This was predicated on a widely held assumption that economic growth in Europe would continue at the very high levels of the recent past.

Unhappily, the crystal ball is becoming clouded. A U. S. News & World Report article deals in some detail with that what is going on abroad. It begins: "Europe's business boom, marvel of the free world in recent years, now is beginning to run out of steam. The slowdown could bring sharp reductions in American exports—a major blow under U. S. business."

This does not mean that a European depression is expected. But it does seem to mean that the peaks of expansion and growth have been passed, and that production in many lines will be on a much smaller scale than in late years. So demand for goods will slacken.

As an example, U. S. News cites the six Common Market countries of Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. In the last half of 1959, their industrial production increased at the rate of 4.3 per cent quarterly. But in the last half of 1960 the quarterly rate of increase was sharply down to 1.8 per cent.

During the first half of this year, says the magazine, "Export demand is expected to increase very little, or not at all, as a result of the U. S. recession, economic troubles in Great Britain and the low earnings of underdeveloped countries, hard hit by the decline in prices of raw materials and farm commodities." In the second half, the account goes on, "Export demand is expected to show little if any improvement."

The governments and business elements concerned are studying various steps for stimulating demand in the European nations, and to improve the international trade picture. But these would not be felt for a considerable period of time. So, as U. S. News says at the end of its article, "It's quite a change. Europe's boom, once considered almost invincible, now is losing a lot of its zip."

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

April 21, 1938

Another lucky boy has been chosen to attend Wolverine Boys' State at Lansing in June, and he is Keith Bowen, son of Mrs. Hazel Bowen. The young man is the choice of Grayling Kiwanis Club and was selected through the High School faculty. After Grayling Post 106 had made their selection they found that there was a vacancy in the tenth district for five boys, and so the matter of sending another boy from Grayling was taken up with the Kiwanis Club. Keith is the lucky boy and we congratulate him on his having the qualifications to be selected.

What is a Billion? If you spent a dollar every minute of every hour of every day since the birth of Christ you would have spent only a little more than a billion dollars. If you started to spend $100 a minute, it would take 19 years before you were broke. From March 4, 1933, to April 2, 1938, the Federal government alone has spent nearly 37 billion dollars, according to official figures.

A. E. Hendrickson is adding to his property at Lakeview Park, Lake Margrethe, by having a fine new cottage built, which he expects to occupy during the summer, renting the other cottage that was erected a few years ago. Edwin Carlson is doing the work. Easter Sunday was a most significant day for Mrs. Earl Dawson, for she celebrated her birthday anniversary and became the proud grandmother of her first grandchild. The newcomer was Robert Gary, weight 8-pounds, born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dawson (Matilda Engel), and the event made Hans Petersen happy for that is his first great grandchild. We can't quite figure out who is the most tickled, the parents, the grandparents or the great grandfather.

In the last edition of the Avalanche it was reported that Don Reynolds had purchased a partnership in a business in Mt. Pleasant and was leaving for that city Friday morning. Mr. Reynolds' plans have been changed, we have learned, and he will operate an electric appliance agency locally, selling washers, refrigerators, radios and other household devices. He will use his residence for a place of business.

John Bruun had several guests here last week Thursday—J. F. Murphy, Fred Weissinger, Arnold Haight and James Bird, all of Lansing. These gentlemen are starting the construction of a club house on the Manistee River.

The new home of C. L. Smith and daughter, Mrs. Lillian Ryan are having built on their property on US-27 is nearing completion. The house is one story and there are seven rooms, and it is to be modern throughout. They expect to move in about the middle of May.

Chris Hoelsi and Ernest Borchers, who conduct a canoe livery, providing canoes and guides for river trips, are building a canoe house on the bank of the Ausable River—the State Street bridge. The building will be 22 by 36 feet, the foundation for which is completed ready for the upright. It will hold 32 canoes. They expect to landscape the lawn surrounding it, making it one of the beauty spots along the river.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milnes, who are vacationing at Washington D. C., Mrs. Hattie Moshier and son Charles spent Sunday visiting in Flint.

Mrs. A. L. Roberts and daughters Dorothy and Pat and Bill McLeod spent a few days in Big Bay visiting Mr. Roberts, who has been there for some time helping with repairs on the mill of the Kerry and Hanson Co.

William LaGrow and Leland Marshall spent Thursday and Friday in Detroit on business.

Mrs. Jane Ingley returned to Wildwood, Lake Margrethe, after spending the winter as guest of her niece, Mrs. Leo Koerper, in Detroit. Mrs. Koerper and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Marie Koerper, John Koerper and little niece, Margie Koerper, accompanied her and are returning home today.

"DOLLAR DOWN, DOLLAR A WEEK"

By PAUL L. ADAMS State Attorney General

"You can have all the things you seek For a dollar down and a dollar a week."

So goes the popular song. But many consumers sing a blue note, when they find themselves entangled in the coils of a series of purchases, all on the installment plan, and all enlarged far beyond the original purchase price by some charge made for credit.

My studies of consumer problems suggest that one of the most serious areas is that of the undisclosed or misrepresented charge made for credit, as part of a sales transaction involving consumer goods.

Do you know how much credit costs you? Do you know the difference between legal interest and "true annual interest?" Do you know that in some circumstances a seller may legally make credit charges totaling more than thirty per cent of the price of the article purchased?

Do you know that usury, though against the law, is not a crime in Michigan?

Do you know that legal limitations on interest do not control charges made for deferred payments, such as "revolving accounts," charges for delinquent payments, service charges and the like?

If you'd rather be safe than broke, don't commit yourself to buy anything until the seller has set down in writing the total price being charged for the goods, together with the charge being made for credit, in whatever form, not only for each installment but also for the total purchase.

You will be hearing more from me on this subject in later news letters.

What The G. H. S. Band Does For You

Many of us don't realize the importance of our G. H. S. Band. Have we ever stopped to think just what the Band does for us? Do you realize that every time the Band performs at a public occasion, it represents the entire instrumental ability of the whole student body.

Many people don't even know all of the events the Band participates in. It plays for all the home football and the basketball games. It also represents the school spirit during the football and basketball seasons, when it plays for every pep session.

The Band represents Grayling at two musical festivals every year. One is the "Festival of Bands" in Traverse City, Michigan. The other is the "Festival of Bands" in Alpena, Michigan.

We can see that we are represented in so many events every year by our Band. Yes, our Band is very important to us and our director, Mr. Lefroy Christian, deserves a great deal of credit for his long hours and many sacrifices to produce such a wonderful organization. The entire Band needs a great deal of backing and encouragement from everyone.

Wednesday night the Band had their annual potluck dinner. Ham, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, jello salad, rolls and various desserts were served.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Robert W. April 11, 1961
Crawford County Avalanche
Grayling, Michigan
Dear Mr. Strong:

I would like to address this
Open Letter TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS:

You are one of the nearly 3 million boys and girls in this nation who every year will be entering the world of business.

What will be your chances of getting ahead?

Excellent, if you plan to stay with your classmates and graduate. You are acquiring the habit of learning, and you will go right on learning all through life. A whole new world of opportunity and challenge lies ahead for you.

But to an alarming number of 18-year olds, the door to steady employment, regular advancement, and higher wages is closed.

These are the young people who quit high school before graduating — the "drop-outs" who sacrificed a lifetime of profits for a few dollars today.

Students, before you decide to trade a diploma for a head start in the ranks of the unemployed, stop to consider these factors:

... You're going to have to work for a long, long time. All your life you'll be competing for jobs and promotions with people better educated and better prepared than
you. Give yourself an even break!

The typical high school graduate during his lifetime earns $30,000 more than the high school dropout.

Employers want workers with a sense of responsibility.
Right now school is your responsibility. Your diploma will prove that you have what it takes to see a job through.

Your happiness will depend on your ability to get along with people. In school you are learning how to work and enjoy associating with others. You'll probably never again find in one place as many people interested in you and your success.

There will be fewer jobs for the untrained in this satellite we live in. Apprenticeship programs in nearly all trades are increasing on high school graduates.
Employers as well as the armed services prefer to train workers who have a foundation upon which a career can be built.

Get hold of the tools of living.
Learn math and science. Learn to write and speak well. Don't goof out on your future.

What kind of person you're going to be depends on YOU. You can go as far as you want. But one thing is sure: Education will help you get there.

The Fine Art Of Salesmanship

Anyone who has ever been bamboozled by a fast talking sales man will know what I mean when I say that appearances can be deceiving. Take the case of a new car shopper. I've seen it happen many times where the prospect would tour a number of towns and cities until he got the best offer (by about $50.00) and then end up buying a different model at a much higher price.

How did it happen? He simply got talked into it by the salesman. The $50.00 he was "saving" got lost in the shuffle of different model prices, optional equipment, accessories and finance terms.

The trade slang for this type of high powered selling calls it "spinning" the prospect. Pretty descriptive too since it usually leaves him dizzy and confused.

Here is the kicker though: out of the confusion of the final goal, the buyer clings to the thought that dominated his mind during the whole transaction. That is that he was "saving" $50.00! In case you're ready to scoff, let me add I've seen many educated and intelligent people fall into this trap! It's not so surprising though when you realize most folks aren't even aware of the exact rate or amount of finance they are paying.

It is our policy to plainly state all the facts of a sale. We hope you check all the facts. If you do you'll find there is no comparable value for your money than that offered by Welsh Motor Sales.

Mrs. Allen Elzinga came down from Vanderhill Thursday to get her daughter, Lynn, who had spent several days here visiting her grandparents, the Harold Longs. Mrs. John Wahlstrom is in Munson Hospital, Traverse City, following the accident in which she suffered a broken hand and elbow on Tuesday, April 4th. Mrs. Wahlstrom was crossing US-27 and walked into the side of a passing truck. She was taken by ambulance to Mercy Hospital, and later transferred to Munson. Any one wishing to send her a card, her room number is 145, Munson Hospital, Traverse City.

Mrs. Nylund Houghton, Mrs. Floyd Cole and Mrs. Russell Carlson have been making frequent visits to Traverse City to see Mrs. Wahlstrom at Munson Hospital. She is expected to be there for possibly another week.

Orders are now being taken for cemetery markers and monuments, also inscriptions cut, for Memorial Day. Contact Carl Hanson, P. O. Box 75, Grayling, Michigan.

Mrs. Robert Holzman (Pat) is a new employee at Hendershot Supply Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard G. Mercer and son Stephen of Lansing are the new owners of Shamrock Shanty on Shupac Lake.

A care-free Florence Coatsworth tells us she is leaving Nuy, and to Mrs. E. L. Konner, N. Miami Beach, Fla., April 12th, and will soon be back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stephan are home after spending the winter at Apache Junction, Arizona.

Mrs. Clyde Culver and her little daughter Toni saw something they had never seen before at their Eagle Point home at Lake Margrethe last Wednesday. A sizeable eagle with white head and tail feathers and a large wing spread swooped down on a hapless duck, caught him and with the prey in his claws flew to a piece of ice in the lake where he feasted on same. He flew away but returned shortly and kept circling over the spot. Needless to say the remaining ducks "made themselves scarce."

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ingram of Flint spent three days recently as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolcott. Easter Sunday the Wolcotts accompanied their daughter and family, the Al Stephens, Richard and Kay Ann, to East Jordan, to visit the Don Stephens.

Kay Ann was home from Emmanuel Missionary College, Berrien Springs, Wednesday to Easter Monday.

The Dr. Stealy returned home Easter Monday, after spending some time at Friona, Arizona. They visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stundt and children, on Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rasmussen and daughters Shirley and Karen returned Wednesday of last week from spending three months in California, where they visited their son Bob and family at Corona. Shirley flew out to California three weeks ago from Traverse City to assist in driving her folks home.

The family visited with Miss Barbara Nelson at Long Beach several times while out west, also other Michigan folks. Karen enjoyed some skiing at Squaw Valley, home of the winter Olympics a year ago. Visits were made to Mrs. Maude Aberle and Miss Laura Rasmussen at Van Nuys, and to Mrs. E. L. Konner, Nevada. Silence, Please!

Cap Edwards' little boy started taking saxophone lessons a few weeks ago, and they tell me the noise on Upper Main Street was pretty bad.

Then, one afternoon, the Edwards' house was quiet again, and Mrs. Jackson next door figured the boy must have given up tooting his horn. Next time she saw Sis Edwards she asked her about it.

"Well," Sis said, "we knew that racket must be driving you folks crazy. So Cap got a soundproof telephone booth from the phone company second-hand. Junior practices in it to his heart's content. Even I don't have to hear him!"

From where I sit, Cap is living up to one of our oldest American principles — respect for a neighbor's privacy and feelings. You can be sure a thoughtful man like this never tries to force his opinions and preferences on anyone. He's the sort of man who'll go out of his way to have a bottle of beer ready to serve his guests even though he may not prefer beer himself. We can all learn a "lesson" in tolerance from Cap's phone booth.

Local Board Starts Plans For Realtor Week

Members of the Northeastern Michigan Board of Realtors are now starting to plan with other civic and business leaders of the community to celebrate Realtor Week which will be observed nationally from April 23 - 29 A. B. Crow, president of the board, announced today.

Specific plans for the observance of the week, designed to acquaint the public with the advantages of buying or selling real property through the services of a Realtor, are the responsibility of the board's Realtor Week Committee headed by Lou Kramer, Hubbard Lake.

Held annually under the auspices of the National Association of Real Estate Boards of which the Northeastern Michigan board is a member, Realtor Week is expected to be observed by at least 600 real estate boards across the country.

"We Realtors know that the purchase or sale of real estate, particularly in the buying or selling of a home, is probably the most important single transaction in which most persons ever engage," Mr. Kramer said. "And we want the public to know that Realtors can help them in such a transaction with the highest standards of professional competence and ethics. During Realtor Week we will reemphasize this point."

By way of background, the Northeastern Michigan board president said that the NAREB constitution defines a Realtor as "a person, engaged in the real estate business who is a board member or an individual member of NAREB, is subject to its rules and regulations, observes its standards of conduct, and is entitled to its benefits." Such membership is extended to brokers who have demonstrated their competence and adherence to ethical practices in addition to passing state license examinations. Thus, a Realtor is more than just any real estate broker.

Furthermore it is pointed out, the term REALTOR is the exclusive designation of members of local real estate boards and NAREB by virtue of its registration with the U. S. Patent Office. Numerous federal and state court decisions have upheld the Association's exclusive control of the term.

Founded in 1908, NAREB adopted its Code of Ethics, to which every Realtor is pledged, in 1913. The Code defines in specific terms the rules of conduct that are to govern the Realtor in his relations with the public, his clients, and other Realtors. Many state real estate license commissioners have cited the NAREB Code as the most advanced set of ethical standards existent and have expressed a desire to see it extended to the entire real estate calling. Public acceptance of the service standards of Realtors has been such that today NAREB ranks as one of the largest trade associations in the nation with 68,818 members in 1,372 boards.
